CAN'T-MISS EXPERIENCES

CULTURE

What's the DNA of the Outaouais? Bounded by the Ottawa River, the area was shaped by trade between the First Peoples, the timber industry and its loggers, and its proximity to the country's capital, Ottawa. That's why the cultural life of the Outaouais is so rich!

Profile of the region

The Outaouais: a 33,000 km² playground

Canadian Museum of History

Les Chemins d'eau

Discover the Outaouais region's cultural and natural heritage along a new official tourist route, Les Chemins d'eau ("waterways"). The Ottawa River, the largest in Quebec, has served as a transport route for copper, fur and lumber, and played a key role in our nation's development. Travel back in time and discover the region's many facets. Just follow the river!

An hour's drive from Montreal and four hours from Toronto, the Outaouais region is one of three official gateways to Quebec. Located in the southwestern corner of the province, it's bounded by the Abitibi-Témiscamingue region, the Laurentian mountains, and Ottawa, Canada's capital. It's no coincidence that the first signs of human occupation in the Outaouais date back over 6,000 years! The region's strategic location made it an important meeting place for trade, cultural exchange and enrichment. The Indigenous inhabitants knew all about that!

French explorers Samuel de Champlain and Étienne Brûlé journeyed through the region in the early 1600s; some two centuries later, the first non-Indigenous settlers arrived and established the local lumber industry. However, it wasn't until the arrival of the American Loyalist Philemon Wright in 1800 that the Outaouais region really began to flourish, mainly because of the logging industry. Historically, the region is known for the log drives on the Coulonge, Gatineau and Ottawa rivers, the "matchstick houses" of Old Hull, the Great Ottawa-Hull Fire of 1900, the "Little Chicago" era, and more!

The massive log booms floating down the region's rivers have given way to whitewater rafting, river cruises and other aquatic pursuits. Today, the Outaouais is a gigantic playground just waiting to be enjoyed. Composed of five territories—Gatineau, the urban hub, Collines-de-l'Outaouais, Petite Nation, Pontiac, Vallée-de-la-Gatineau and—, the region offers an outstanding variety of events and attractions for every taste.

Here, you get both quantity and diversity! The Outaouais is an appealing destination for outdoor enthusiasts, foodies, romantic souls and inquisitive young adventurers alike.

"The Outaouais offers the perfect mix of proximity and diversity. In the blink of an eye, one goes from the downtown core to a rural setting. There's something for everybody: nature lovers, foodies, culture and history buffs."

For urban explorers, Gatineau and Ottawa offer an eclectic mix of local microbreweries, restaurants and patios, as well as live shows in intimate performance venues. On both sides of the Ottawa River, on foot or by bike, you can take it all in: national museums, art galleries, city sightseeing tours, and shopping. And with a year round program of special events and festivals, there's always a celebration going on. For a fun weekend getaway, Gatineau has everything you're looking for!

Calling all nature lovers: have we got a paradise for you! With an area of 33,000 square kilometres encompassing 15,000 lakes and a dozen rivers, the Outaouais is a great place to enjoy your favourite outdoor activities. Most popular throughout the region are cycling and cross-country skiing, especially in Gatineau Park.

Whatever the season, you'll find entertaining activities for every member of the family, from visiting wild animals to zip lining through the treetops, from exploring the depths of an underground cavern to touring a national museum.

Whether you're looking for bike paths or snowmobile trails, fresh local products or family fun, our free maps and guides will help you make the most of your visit. Contact us for more information [\[see page 138\]](#). Enjoy your stay in the Outaouais!

Mont Morissette Regional Park

18 760 inhabitants

mrcvg.qc.ca

The Vallée-de-la-Gatineau, in the northern part of the region, is the largest territory in the Outaouais, perfect for outdoor enthusiasts. Cycling, camping, water sports—you'll find them all here, and lots of outfitters besides, from family-oriented businesses to more rustic enterprises, some in remote areas accessible only by seaplane. At Poisson Blanc Regional Park, you can even rent your own island! Snowmobilers and ATV riders can explore over 600 km of marked trails. The town of Maniwaki is home to several interpretation centres where you can learn about forest fire prevention, white-tailed deer, and Indigenous culture.

Baskatong Reservoir

reservoirbaskatong.qc.ca

The Baskatong Reservoir resulted from the construction of the Mercier Dam in 1927, and serves as a source of feedwater for hydroelectric generating stations located downstream along the Gatineau River. This beautiful and majestic 320 km² inland sea encompasses 2,800 km of shoreline, several sandy beaches and some 160 islands. It offers many year-round outdoor activities and is home to an extensive network of outfitters and campgrounds.

Blue Sea

641 inhabitants

blueseas.ca

Located in the northern part of the Outaouais region and a favourite with vacationers, this village of 641 residents is surrounded by over two dozen lakes, including majestic Blue Sea Lake, long known (and rightly so) as "the Pearl of the Gatineau." A popular vacation destination, Blue Sea is known for its art gallery installed in a former church manse, and for Mount Morissette Regional Park with its impressive observation tower. The municipality's motto is "Blue Sea: Blissful and welcoming since 1899."

Cayamant

825 inhabitants

cayamant.ca

Located 112 km north of Gatineau, Cayamant is the gateway to the Pontiac ZEC and the Forêt de l'Aigle. A real natural paradise : hunting, fishing, over 7.5 km of hiking trails, observation towers, water sports, wilderness camping, ATV riding ... In winter, from the Carnival to the Rallye Perce-Neige, we celebrate the season! On holidays or days off in Cayamant, we recharge our batteries and we create memories!

Gracefield

2 437 inhabitants

gracefield.ca

The history of this municipality dates back to 1840 and the arrival of the first settlers. In 1883 a post office was opened and the village was named Gracefield. Today, with its rapidly growing downtown area, the territory encompasses several lakes and rivers and has become a popular recreation destination.

Grand-Remous

1 180 inhabitants

grandremous.ca

Explore Vallée-de-la-Gatineau's Route des Draveurs ("log drivers' road"), which will take you to Grand-Remous and its 102-metre covered bridge, the Savoyard Bridge. Take a few minutes to admire the view from its lookouts and read the descriptive panels that tell the story of the region. Near the church, take a break at the new roadside rest area, with its panoramic view of the Gatineau River. A little further on lies the Baskatong Reservoir, and outdoor lovers will be keen to book a stay with one of the local outfitters. And if you enjoy fishing, be sure to visit the Walleye Interpretation Centre!

Lac-Sainte-Marie

607 inhabitants

lac-sainte-marie.com

The jewel of the Vallée-de-la-Gatineau, nestled among majestic mountains, the scenic municipality of Lac Sainte-Marie has become a favourite of vacationers and outdoor enthusiasts. In 1928, following the development of the Pagan hydroelectric dam, the village was flooded and relocated. The flood transformed the lake that gave the village its name into a larger and more beautiful one, much enjoyed by tourists, who soon began building cottages on its shores. Key local attractions include Mont Ste-Marie, a popular destination for golfers and downhill skiers!

Low

1 027 inhabitants

lowquebec.ca

Just north of Wakefield, the municipality of Low invites you to discover the Gatineau River at the level of the Pagan Dam, as well as the Trans Canada Trail, which leads north. Low's first residents, of Irish origin, settled here in the early 19th century, and today, the residents of Low are known for their volunteerism and community spirit.

Maniwaki

Fun fact: the Outaouais has its very own Far West! Fall under the spell of the unspoiled beauty and rich history of the Pontiac, one of the region's best-kept secrets. Here, the Ottawa River reveals itself in all its glory, and the rocky outcrops of the Canadian Shield dominate the landscape. Explore the area by bicycle along the PPJ Cyclopark, a 92-km trail built on an old railroad bed. Tame the Ottawa River, Canada's best rafting river. History and outdoor adventure meet at Coulonge Falls Park, with its giant zip lines and Via Ferrata, a climb/walk along the rock face of the Coulonge River canyon!

Bryson

705 inhabitants

mrcpontiac.qc.ca/en/mrc/municipalities/bryson

When it was founded in 1856, Bryson was known as "the little port of Havelock," and served as the transfer point for goods shipped between the upper Ottawa River and the lower townships. It was also the county seat until 1914, when a fire destroyed most of the village. Today, this historic riverside community is a landmark for thrill seekers thanks to Rafting Momentum, which offers an unforgettable whitewater experience. Bryson is a place well worth discovering!

Fort-Coulonge

1 425 inhabitants

fortcoulonge.qc.ca

It was here, in 1695, that Nicolas D'Ailleboust, Sieur de Coulonge, established the region's first fur trading post. The legacy of 19th-century lumber baron George Bryson endures in the municipality's superb architectural heritage. Stroll through the village and admire three magnificent Victorian homes, including "Spruceholme," built by George Bryson, Jr. and now being run as an inn, meticulously restored with many of its original furnishings and archival photographs. Discover the rich religious heritage of Fort Coulonge, and admire the many beautiful stained-glass windows.

Litchfield

454 inhabitants

litchfield-qc.ca

Forestry and agriculture may have attracted the first pioneers to this area, but it's the beautiful landscapes that will keep you there! The plain of Vinton in the town of Litchfield affords stunning views of Grand Calumet Island. The PPJ Cyclopark bike trail runs through the town and along the Ottawa River, inviting visitors to discover this magnificent territory. A top spot for sunset-watchers!

Located in a beautiful setting at the foot of the Montagnes Noires, the municipality of Ripon is known for its arts community and agritourism. It's home to artists, artisans, and organic farmers specializing in quality local products that can be sampled and purchased at the Marché public de la Petite-Nation. Ripon's Outdoor Adventure Centre is open year round, and a hilltop lookout (altitude 426 metres) provides a spectacular view of the area. Access to all trails and facilities, including outdoor parking, is free.

patrimoine-culturel.gouv.qc.ca/rpcq/detail.do?methode=consulter&id=92789&type=bien#.WjQVxEsiHsG

The Marchand covered bridge, the longest covered bridge still in use in Quebec, was built in 1898 by Augustus Brown of Beachburg. The 153-metre structure replaced two older bridges spanning the Coulonge River and linking the lumber camp on one shore to the village of Fort Coulonge on the other. Built entirely of pine and held up by six wooden pillars, the one-way bridge was covered so that it wouldn't rot. Currently undergoing restoration, the bridge adds charm to the picturesque Coulonge River.

The Gatineau–Ottawa Executive Airport (GOEA) offers all the services normally found at a regional airport, plus Canada Customs for aircraft with 15 seats or fewer. Yearly airshows are held at the GOEA, and the site is home to several enterprises, including four flight schools, aircraft maintenance organizations, Vintage Wings of Canada, and a skydiving club. Visitors/dients can lease secure interior and exterior aircraft parking spaces. Open: Year-round.

TRAVELLING IN QUEBEC

Driving in Quebec

Since Canada uses the metric system, speed limits and distances are posted in kilometres per hour (km/h) and gasoline is sold by the litre (l).

Cell Phones

Use of a hand-held cell phone that does not have a hands-free function is prohibited while driving.

Winter Tires

From December 15 to March 15, all taxis and passenger vehicles registered in Quebec must be equipped with winter tires. This requirement also applies to rental passenger vehicles in Quebec.

Road Conditions

For information on road conditions or other aspects of trip-planning, call 511 or 1-888-355-0511, or visit quebec511.info.

Tourist Routes

The official tourist routes are clearly marked with blue signs. They are designed to highlight the attractions of the regions through which they pass, and to enable visitors to discover the extent of Quebec's natural and cultural treasures.

Tourist Signage

In Quebec, tourist regions and directions to services, attractions and activities are indicated by blue road signs. For more information, visit panneaubleu.com and tourisme.gouv.qc.ca/signalisation (in French only).

Village-relais Accredited Services

If you feel like taking a break or require assistance while on the road, look for the Village-relais signs. These point to towns that, together with local businesses, offer a range of accredited services and a safe and pleasant place to stop.

Tipping

Tipping is customary in restaurants, bars and taxis. The amount, which is not included in the bill, is generally equivalent to 15% of the total bill before taxes. For quick tip calculations, Quebecers normally add up both taxes. Tipping bellhops or porters is at your discretion (generally, 1$ per bag).

A 4-SEASON GETAWAY

3 sections, 3 experiences | 10 outdoor baths |
9 saunas | relaxation areas | massage |
body treatments | salt-water floating pool |
exfoliation | restaurants and lodging

An aerial photograph of the Nordik resort at dusk. The resort consists of several large, multi-story wooden buildings with dark roofs and warm interior lighting visible through the windows. In the foreground, there are two large, irregularly shaped outdoor pools with glowing blue water, surrounded by stone walls and landscaping. The background shows a dense forest of trees and distant hills under a twilight sky.
